FIRST DAY AFTER WINTER BREAK

Today marks the beginning of a school term after winter break, and the excitement is palpable as the kids eagerly return to reunite with friends and beloved teachers. The little children stepped into their classrooms; their face beaming with infectious smiles! To make this day special for our little ones, we organized a delightful bookmark-making activity that allowed their creativity to shine. Armed with vibrant markers, glitter, and stickers, the children enthusiastically crafted personalized bookmarks, creating cherished mementos of the day, fostering a sense of accomplishment. Adding rhythm and movement to the festivities, the Little Toddlers joyfully danced to different tunes, transforming the classrooms into lively dance floors. As the day unfolded, the atmosphere was one of shared happiness and camaraderie. The combination of artistic expression and rhythmic celebration made the first day back after winter break truly memorable for our Little Toddlers.
